Gentle civil rights advocate Florine DuFresne dies in Arizona at 95

"She was the community's conscience. She was just a very loving, accepting person," said friend Harriett Wilson about Florine DuFresne, Clark County native.

Mrs. DuFresne, an inveterate letters-to-the-letter writer, almost always in support of civil rights, died at the home of her daughter Ann Beach in Chandler, Ariz., Saturday. She was 95.

Mrs. DuFresne was born in Hazel Dell in 1907, attended Hough School and graduated from Vancouver High School in 1925.

Mrs. DuFresne's husband, Ron, who died in 1980, founded Vancouver Funeral Home in 1936. In addition to Ann, Mrs. DuFresne is survived by daughters Nyle Hallman, Honolulu, Hawaii, Miriam LeGare, Sacramento, Calif., and Janette Hopper, Templeton, Calif.

A memorial service will be at 10 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 15, in the First United Methodist Church, 401 E 33rd Street.

Clark College master plan subject of two meetings on Wednesday

Two open houses for public review of the Clark College master plan are at 3:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 12, in the Gaiser Hall central boardroom.

Clark's plan covers use of the campus and construction of future buildings, which may be off campus, over the period of six to twelve years.

One of Clark's new buildings, a classroom that would serve 400 students, will be on the Washington State University Vancouver campus.

Other off-campus locations under consideration are in east Vancouver, according to interim president David Beyer.

Clark County Fair Association will begin new master plan review at Thursday open house

The Clark County Fair Association, which envisions new equestrian facilities and new consumer show facilities at the fairgrounds, will accept public comment on the fairgrounds master plan at a 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13, open house in the Fairgrounds Community Center, 17402 NE Delfel Road.

The fair association's first master plan did not envision the 18,000-seat Quincunx Arena, scheduled to open late this spring, or the creation of a public facilities district that would use state-rebated sales tax to support a downtown Vancouver convention center.

The open house is an informal meeting hosted by the fair board, according to Tom Musser, executive director of the Clark County Fair Association.

Time to request Marshall Lecture tickets

Although the General George C. Marshall Lecture is not until Friday, Nov. 7, the Vancouver Historic Reserve

MONDAY

Feb. 10, 2003

Trust's Celebrate Freedom director Kim Hash recommends requesting tickets early for the traditionally standing-room only event.

The speaker is the president of the American Red Cross, Marcia Johnson Evans, a retired Navy rear admiral and former chief of staff of the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Neither the location nor the time for the lecture has been set, says Hash. The event is free, but tickets are required. For further information, call 992-1804.

YWCA seeking young women of achievement

As it has for the past 17 years, the YWCA of Clark County will honor ten young women of achievement who will be selected from high school juniors in Clark County.

Candidates nominated will be judged for their community service, leadership and for being role models.

Nominations are due March 30, and the awards will be made on May 13. For further information, call Nicole Hagerty, 906-9153,
