John Noland heads for national YMCA job

John Noland, who for nearly four years has been executive director of the Clark County YMCA, has been tapped by the YMCA of the USA to work on the national Total Health Project.,

The local YMCA was a pilot model of the Total Health Project, which takes a well rounded look at the health of the body and mind.

During Noland's tenure, the YMCA completed its $9 million family health center and the Jack, Rob and Will Youth Center in Camas was opened. The local YMCA has consistently surpassed its fund raising goals.

Sharon Pesut, associate director, has been named interim director.

Douglas explored the northwest from Fort Vancouver. The six-month trek will be documented by a book and video.

Prominent Vancouver attorney Richard Howsley, 55, died suddenly Thursday

Richard Howsley

Richard Howsley, 55, prominent Vancouver attorney, died suddenly Thursday at his home. Mr. Howsley died of natural causes, although the exact cause of death had not been determined by mid-day Friday.

Shocked co-workers today remembered Mr. Howsley for his generosity, sense of humor and for being easy and pleasant to work with.

Mr. Howsley was executive director of the Clark County Regional Planning Council when he joined the law firm of Memovich, Lansverk & Whitesides in 1985. He was a partner and past president of that law firm when in 1992 he opened his own firm, Richard T. Howsley.

Mr. Howsley, along with his son, James Howsley, joined the law firm of Lane Powell Spears Lubersky when in February 2002 it opened its Vancouver office.

Royce Pollard seeking 5th term as mayor

Fifteen-year veteran of city politics, Vancouver Mayor Royce Pollard will announce Monday that he is a candidate for a fifth two-year term as mayor of America's Vancouver.

Pollard, who says he pledges continued leadership, will formally announce his candidacy at 11:30 a.m. Monday, March 31, in front of the bell tower at Esther Short Park.

Pollard, who was commander of Vancouver Barracks when he retired from the Army, was first elected to the city council in 1989, and was elected mayor in 1955.

Campaign supporters include former mayor Jim Justin and public relations counselor Jeff Williams.

Controversial Desire Video destroyed by fire of unknown origin last night

Desire Video, a controversial adult entertainment business still under construction at Fourth Plain Boulevard and NE 94th Avenue, was destroyed by fire Thursday.

The loss was estimated by the Vancouver Fire Department at $850,000. The building was engulfed in flames when fire fighters arrived.

According to fire services spokesperson Marilyn Westlake, the federal Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms Bureau is assisting with an investigation

The adult store faced a storm of protests and a legal battle from the Van Mall Neighborhood Association
