

Normandeu Associates hires Dena Horton

Dena Horton, former district representative for U.S. Rep. Brian Baird (D-3rd) and the 2003 General George C. Marshall Public Service Leadership Award recipient, has been hired by Normandeu Associates, Inc., as public involvement project manager, reports Karen Ciocia, the company's public involvement manager.

Horton most recently was program manager for the Southwest Washington Agency on Aging. She is a current board member of the Clark County Skills Center Foundation, Evergreen High School Dollars for Scholars, and Gonzaga University Alumni Mentoring Program. Horton is a volunteer for Celebrate Freedom/Vancouver National Historic Reserve Trust, secretary of the Clark County Democratic Central Committee, and member of the Downtown Vancouver Rotary Club.

A graduate of Gonzaga University, Horton is also a member of the 2003-2004 Leadership Clark County class. She has completed course work toward a masters in public affairs at Washington State University Vancouver.

Normandeu Associates, a nationwide public involvement and national resources firm, opened its Vancouver office last May.
